SLI Systems makes it easy for retailers to achieve higher sales and happier customers.

We accelerate e-commerce in three ways. We generate more traffic, convert more shoppers into buyers, and increase order values.

We do this through the SLI Buyer Engine™, a cloud-based, machine-learning platform that predicts what your shopper is most likely to buy right now.

This means your search, personalization, recommendations, navigation, mobile experience, merchandising, and long-tail SEO are all optimized to take your e-commerce site to the next level.

SLI delivers the competitive advantage you need and the customer experience your shoppers deserve.

Key Features

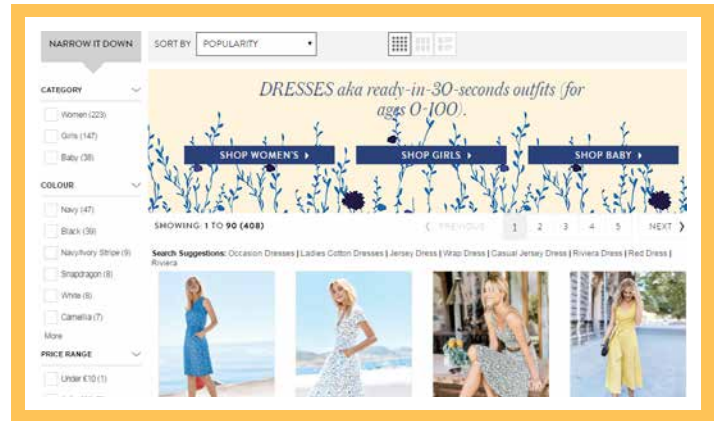

- Proven performance for any industry in the retail and B2B space
- Patented machine-learning technology purpose-built to process big data
- Enterprise-level reliability and scalability via a SaaS solution
- Multilingual support for 20 languages
- Personalized shopping experiences for first-time visitors and loyal customers
